- (D) Make a précis of the following passage to one-third of its length and suggest a suitable title :

Some religious teachers have taught that Man is made up of a body and a soul; but they have been silent about the intellect. Their followers try to feed the body on earth and to save the soul from perdition after death; but they neglect the claims of the Mind. Bread for the body and Virtue for the soul : these are regarded as the indispensable requisites of human welfare here and hereafter. Nothing is said about Knowledge and Education. Thomas Carlyle declared that he honoured only two men and no third : the manual labourer and the religious preacher. He forgot the scientist, the scholar and the artist. The Cynics of Greece despised education and intellectual pursuits, and declared that virtue was the only Good. Such an incomplete ideal has led many earnest men and women to neglect intellectual pursuits as unnecessary and superfluous.
